Internship 2024 (Home Office and Tokyo)

Would you like to gain an insight into the international video art scene alongside your studies? Videocity is a non-profit art organisation, a global team and network that shows video art in public space. We are looking for an intern to support the planning and delivery of an exhibition in Tokyo in 2024.

Videocity was originally founded in Basel, Switzerland and now operates with an international team across the globe – in Austria, Germany, the UK, South Korea, UAE, amongst others, and now Japan. Videocity curates cycles on socially relevant themes that are presented in public space and galleries. Our recent themes have been "Food", "Loneliness", "Eye/View", "Utopia Today", with the 2024 curatorial focus on "Simply Nature".

Tasks:

- Research of Japanese video artists
- Assistance with exhibition preparation, support, mediation, documentation
- Preparation of visitor information and work interpretations, guided tours

Person Specifications:

- BA/MA in art, culture, mediation, art history, or similar
- Interest in video art, art education, art-in-public-space.
- Reliable and experienced working remotely, availability to join zoom meetings with the international team in different time zones
- Based in Tokyo and involved in the local art scene
- Good written and oral knowledge of English is required, and knowledge of Japanese is desirable

Role details:

- Start from March 2024
- Flexible time allocation
- Minimum commitment: 320 hours spread across several months

Study credits:

The internship can be completed within an educational framework.

- University students: Credit Points (ECTS) can be allocated by the relevant educational institution

The deadline for applications is 29.02.2024.
